

"Pay As You Go Channel" Due For Completion Soon

Completion of construction designed to siphon storm waters from along its route and convey them to the ocean. It is being fenced along its 18-mile route as a safeguard to the public, said Hahn.

Financing of the project has been provided from the regular Flood Control District tax and the drainage artery is being built as funds become available.

Its completion will be a major accomplishment in protecting the millions of citizens and their property living in the overflow area of the previously untamed watercourse, Hahn added.

Improvement of Dominguez Channel has been developed as part of the comprehensive flood control plan of the district and is

From Henry Ford Ave. to Wilmington Ave. in the Wilmington area, contract cost $8.5 million; Peter Kiewit Sons Co., contractor; due for completion next spring.

From Rosecrans Ave. to Avalon Blvd. north of Wilmington, cost $3.5 million; Guy F. Atkinson Co., contractor; expected to be finished late in 1965.

One unit remains to be advertised for bids, running from Avalon Blvd. to Vermont Ave. and it is expected that a contract for this section will be awarded by the Board of Supervisors during the spring of 1964.

To date, about $27 million has been allocated to the over-all project by the Flood Control District, Hahn said. Total cost of the entire job is expected to run around $32 million.

The supervisor said units previously completed and their windup dates include International Airport to Inglewood Ave., 1950; Inglewood Ave. to Kornblum Ave., 1949; Kornblum Ave. to 120th St., 1952; Rosecrans Ave. to Compton Blvd., 1962; Compton Blvd. to Redondo Beach Blvd., 1961; Redondo Beach Blvd. to Gramercy Pl., 1961; Gramercy to Denker Ave., 1959; and Denker to Vermont Ave.,

AUTOMATIC STOP

A stopped school bus should represent an automatic stop signal to cars from all directions, the Allstate Motor Club says.

Community leaders and Supervisor Kenneth Hahn inspect progress of the Dominguez Channel. This channel, extending from the International Airport to Long Beach Harbor is expected to be complete in the Spring of 1966. The channel drains the entire Centinela Valley. They are inspecting the portion under construction from Rosecrans to 120th Street.
